The scouts and their parents, including James Arch, landscape architect at Vizmeg Landscape, spread the mulch on the landscape beds at the front entryway of the elementary school. The mulching project was much more than a spring routine. It represented an opportunity to teach the Cub Scout pack about the benefits of mulch and building pride in their school grounds.

Mulch helps to suppress weeds in landscape beds, retain moisture for the plants and shrubs and adds beauty to the property. The project also spurs the students' interest in the overall landscape as well as the environment. The scouts included students in grades first through fourth. Upon completion of the project, the students earned a landscape achievement badge.

The team of professionals at Vizmeg Landscape believes in giving back to the community. In addition to school projects, Vizmeg has worked in conjunction with Keep Akron Beautiful, Earth Day plantings and Project EverGreen's, www.projectevergreen.com, renovation project in downtown Akron.
